WILL BE BEST ROAD IN U. S.

Salt Lake Division of Short Line Will Have the Banner Line Soon.

Nevada - California Line Closes Up Gap on Los Angeles-Og-

The Corey Brothers Construction comapny has secured the contracts for the continuation of the contracts to enlarge the sidewalks over the Salt Lake division of the Southern Pacific. All the sidetracks which have here-tofore had a length of 3,000 feet will have a standard length of 4,000 feet. Ninty pound rail will also replace the 75 and 85 pound rail that has been used in the passed. The heavy rail will be laid between Cobre and Wells and at other points as far west as eight miles west of Battle Mountain. When this work is completed it will give the Oregon Short Line railroad on its Salt Lake division one of the best peices of track in the United States.

The rails that are being taken up on the main line will be laid on the Nevada & California narrow gauge branch. Within the next sixty days the gap in this branch will be closed at Oweneo, California. This will make another route from Ogden to Los Au-geles via the Harriman lines. However there will be about one hundred and fourteen miles of the road that will remain narrow gauge for about a year. When the gap is closed the people of Oweneo will hold a big celebration which will be attended by the prom-inent railroad and state officials of Nevada and California.

The completion of this line will also make a link between Los Angeles and Portland. The line will run north through Hazen to Wadsworth and an extension will connect with the Klammath Falls line which will is under an Old Fashioned "Canyon Dinner" at Hermitage.

"BILLY" WILSON ACTS AS HOST

"Billy" Wilson entertained a party of his friends yesterday at the Her-mitage in Ogden canyon with an old-"canyon dinner" which was much enjoyed by those present. The dinner was served in the old house in the grove where similar spreads have been indulged in for many years. Old-fashioned methods serving prevalled, the magnificent trout being piled high on an enor-mous platter in the center of the table. Mrs. Wilson had prepared the feast in a manner which proved that her magic art in cookery had lost none of its cunning with the years that have flown since "Billy" and his wife first took up their abode in Ogden canyon

Those present included the follow-ing with their wives: Sheriff Wilson, Joseph Bailey, Thomas Feeny, Thomas Burk and John Hutchins, and the daughters of the host and hostess. A most enjoyable time was experienced by all and many pleasant recollections of by-gone days were re-

CASE AGAINST THE CEMENT COMPANY

The case of George Geanokowles against the Union Portland Cement company for damages for personal in-juries sustained while in the employ of the defendant will probably be decided in the District Court Monday, after three days of judicial airing. Geanokowles claims that while he was employed in the plant of the cement company he was so severely burned that he has not yet fully recovered from his injuries, despite the fact that the accident occurred nearly a year ago. The plaintiff's injuries were due to his falling into hot ashes which he alleges the company had not taken sufficient steps to guard.

While the counsel for the plaintiff rested its case about noon yesterday the defense had not concluded its argument when the court adjourned yesterday afternoon.

volving the decedent's wife.

It was rumored at the time that Mrs. Isedor had driven her husband from the home a short time previous to his death. The story to the detri ment of Mrs. Isedor gained consider able circulation, but the woman made no attempt to refute it, preferring rather to bear the disgrace until such time as the truth of her innocence would make itself known other than from her own tongue. Now she has decided to tell the public her side of Entertains Party of Friends With the story, and she has sent a communication to the Examiner, stating that she was not the one to blame for the affair referred to in the rumors. Part of her vindication reads: "I was very much wronged by the im-pression that I drove my husband from our home shortly before his death. My husband was persecuted by a son of a citizen of whom Mr. Isedor had borrowed money under false pretenses. My husband would have been persecuted by many more people had he not committed suicide. When the city attorney called at our home to serve papers on my husband he was not at home, and the papers were given to me. Late that evening when I gave the papers to my hus-band and asked him how much money he owed, he refused to tell me, re-plying that it was none of my busi-I entreated him to tell me and offered to mortgage my home to settle his debts. He stated to the police last even-ing that he had just received his week's wages amounting to $14 and was starting for home with the money secure, as he thought, in a rear trousers pocket. While passing the pickle works on Wall avenue between Twenty-fifth street and Twen--fourth street he suddenly felt a hand reach up under the back of his coat. He turned quickly only to a medium sized negress green-trimmed hat in the ect of "lifting" his pocketbook.

The woman was too quick for him and having secured the book she turned quickly and darted away the direction of the drivway back of the pickle factory.

Johnson started after her and in her efforts to elude him the negress lost her big hat in the roadway. Johnson was unable to locate her in the dark and soon abandoned the pursuit. He recovered the hat, how-ever, and took it to the police station where the officers were detailed on

The notorious Susie Johnson and a colored pal from Salt Lake were soon gathered in and made to don the hat before the victim of the robbery, but they did not quite resemble the impression that he had formed of the one who robbed him. Both women declared however, that the hat belonged to a woman friend called "Honey Bug," a local negress, and officers were dispatched to find

Answer to Complaint Brought by Sewell.

Henry Linderman, owner of the au tomobile alleged to have injured Charles B. Sewell in an accident occurring on Washington avenue June 12, filed an answer yesterday, afternoon to the complaint made against him in the District Court.

It was charged by Sewell that Linderman's son Daniel was driving the automobile at the time of the accident and failed to use reasonable pre-caution to prevent his machine from colliding with a buggy in which the plaintiff was riding. The answer de-nies that the accident was avoidable on the part of young Linderman, and further denies that the son was in the employ of the father or was driving the car by direction of the defendant. It states that the accident was one in sponsible with the defendant.
